Creativity at the Core

Our professional program weaves a tapestry of art history, artmaking, education theory, and professional experience to prepare our graduates for careers with a nearly 100% placement rate. The program prepares pre-service art teachers to lead the charge in K-12 classrooms to enable students to find and solve problems, understand different perspectives, and give voice to things through artmaking and engagement that are sometimes hard to put into language. Our program gives candidates the theoretical foundations of art and education and the practical know-how to create robust art programs as they enter the job market.
